Footnote Apparatus

I have tried to list all major Greek textual variants, and many of the minor ones. Variants that are not translatable into English are usually marked within the Greek text, and those that can affect the English rendering, marked in the English text. If this document is an edition without the Greek text alternating verse by verse with the English, then that explains why you might find a footnote referenced to "19:3c" but there are no footnotes for 19:3b or a. Those other two footnotes may be found in an edition that has the Greek text included.

The footnotes about Greek textual variants are in the following format. Here is a fictional footnote for an example.

19:15a txt {A} "of iron" A 046 0226 205 209 2344 \textit{A} Ἰταρ \textit{vg} syrh \textit{cop}sa Cyprian Irenaeus TR NA27 \{\} // "two-edged" Ν P 1006 1841 1854 2030 2329 \textit{ℵ} Ἰταρ \textit{vgcl syrh copbo arm eth Ambrose Primasius RP.

The 19:15a means it is a footnote about chapter 19 v. 15, and the "a" implies that there is at least one other footnote about the verse. The letters "txt" mean that the text of my English translation follows the first (next) reading given. Next comes my rating of my certainty for this variant, as a capital letter in curly brackets.. Not all variants have one, since I am still developing my opinions thereon.

After that come a literal translation of the word(s) upon which my translation is based.

Next comes the listing of Greek manuscripts, first for the reading I translated, then any other variants, separated by "//". (Regarding the Greek manuscripts, their description, date, and genealogy, etc., see the table at the end of the document.) Uncials (mss. whose text is written in all capital letters) are listed first (those designated by a capital Hebrew, Latin or Greek letter, or a number starting with a zero), then minuscules (those designated by a number not starting with a zero), then early versions into other languages; first the italic, then vulgate editions, then Syriac, then Coptic, then others less important such as Armenian and Ethiopic. After that come early church fathers, if any.

Lastly, I list which ones out of six Greek New Testament editions follow that reading. They are listed in the following sequence as well. The letters TR stand for the 1550 Stephanus Textus Receptus; RP means the Robinson-Pierpont 2005 edition; NA27 means the Nestle-Aland 27th edition, and lastly, the curly brackets {B} contain the rating of certainty given in the UBS4, the United Bible Societies' 4th Edition. When there is a left slash in the brackets like this, {\}, that means that the UBS4 has neither footnote nor rating on that variant.

There are over 300 Greek handwritten manuscripts containing Revelation or a portion thereof. Not all of them are significant or important as pertaining to textual criticism, to grossly understake the matter. H. C. Hoskier, in the introduction to his apparatus in Concerning the Text of the Apocalypse, Volume 2, on p. 7 states, "There are two streams of the text of the Apocalypse, one Ecclesiastical and one extra-Ecclesiastical, which only join far back and high amongst the hills near the primal fount." Though I don't necessarily subscribe to that nomenclature, I, after for a while listing the readings of all 300-plus manuscripts, realized that doing so was little more informative than listing only those from approximately the 9th century and earlier.

Hoskier has well pointed out how the uncials of the Revelation text are all over the place, with many omissions and additions. The wildest of them all in Revelation is Sinaiticus. The only uncial that is not "all over the place," but which seems to represent a standardized majority text, is the uncial 046 (called B in his work). Hoskier on p. xxvii of Volume One of "Concerning the Text of the Apocalypse," calls this the "B revision, which was made in the VIth century." On p. xxxvi he calls it the "B recension." He goes on to say, "roughly speaking, B and cursive groups may be neglected if opposed by a consensus of the older uncials, Versions and Fathers. If on the other hand B is joined Aleph, A or C, the greater weight can only be overborne by other subsidiary evidence, and if B have the support of Aleph A or C A together, we must grant the group a full hearing.” In the same paragraph, he declares that Erasmus and Stephen relied on just a few MSS that were faulty in certain particulars. And that we should restore from Tischendorf, Tregelles and Wescott and Hort readings taken away from the TR solely on the basis of one uncial like Aleph or A. With this all I agree.

I have in August 2015 adopted the sigla conventions of the NA28 for the correctors of Codex Sinaiticus in Revelation, and updated my apparatus accordingly:

- $\aleph^*$ 4th century
- $\aleph^1$ 4th – 6th century (only one occurrence- in 21:4
- $\aleph^2$ 7th century
- $\aleph^{2a}$ 7th century
- $\aleph^{2b}$ 7th century
- $\aleph^c$ 12th century

Hoskier declared that the uncial 046 is a highly edited and smoothed-over text. Therefore, when 046 departs from MOST other uncialis, its reading is highly dubious. When 046 differs from ALL other uncialis, its reading is surely false. This fact gives greater value to any minuscules that do not always follow 046, and diminishes the value of those that do. Minuscules that depart are 922 1006 1611 1678 1778 1828 1841 2020 2050 2053 2062 2065 2080 2329 2344 2351, and many of these are also quite early for Apocalypse minuscules. Consequently, these have greater value than other minuscules that slavishly follow 046 are 82, 627, 920, 2138. When these minuscules are not in unity, you will find a difference usually between the Hodges/Farstad majority text vs. the Robinson/Pierpont majority text. In many of these instances, the Robinson text has recently moved toward the correct reading, away from Hodges/Farstad. Where the conjunction of 82, 627, 920 opposes another edition, there you have clearly different text streams. Where minuscules 82, 627, 920 line up against most of the uncialis, their reading is highly doubtful. Where these three line up with 046 against all other uncialis, you have a false reading, a wrong reading in the Majority Text. For example, omit ἡλίου in 22:5c. There are also places where these three line up against all uncialis and all early versions, even against 046; there you have most definitely, absolutely, a wrong reading in the Hodges/Farstad edition, in my opinion.

It would seem that many might agree with F.H.A. Scrivener, who said on p. 277 of Vol. 2 of "Criticism of the New Testament," as follows: "If the question be fairly proposed, 'What right have we to set virtually aside the agreement in the main of our oldest uncialis, at the distance of one or two centuries—of which, owing probably to the results of persecution, we have no MS. remains—with the citations of the primitive Fathers, and with the ancient versions?: the answer must be rendered, without hesitation, ‘no right whatsoever.’ Where the oldest of these authorities really agree, we accept their united testimony as practically conclusive. It is not at all our design to seek our readings from the later uncialis, supported as they usually are by the mass of cursive manuscripts; but to employ their confessedly secondary evidence in those numberless instances wherein their elder brethren are hopelessly at variance, eg. Matt. 1:18, Acts 8:37 for Irenaeus, Acts 13:33 for Origen. It is rare indeed that the express testimony of a Father is so fully confirmed by the oldest copies as in John 1:28, where ἡβατανία, said by Origen to be σχεδὸν ἐν πάσι τοῖς ἀντιγράφοις, actually appears in $\aleph^* A B C*$.'"

There are several places in Revelation where Codex A shows that it is an older text, with older readings, prior to editing and standardization. I agree the UBS/NA editors in that they appear to value Codex A extremely highly for Revelation.

I have come up with 20 test passages, by which to classify the main Apocalypse manuscripts. The manuscripts may be placed on a continuum as shown below, with Codex A being on one end, and 757 the other, as the texts most differing from each other. And that continuum roughly corresponds to the GNT editions which line up like this:

NA27 TR RP HF PK.

A C \(\text{p}^{47}\) \(\text{p}^{18}\) 0207 2080 1678 1778 2062 \(\text{p}^{113}\) 2053 1611 2050 1841 \(\text{K}^\) 1006 \(\text{p}^{43}\) 2020 0163 2040 2329 2065 99 469 616 181 69 459 424 1862 1888 P 172 922 2814 1828 2060 2084 2074 2186 \(\text{K}^2\) 2351 61 2081 2302 792 1732 104 1854 2059 2019 2436 35 256 046 94 175 241 2017 2042 051* 2256 18 1859 1384 1852 2073 1733 2030 367 920 82 456 627 2138 468 2070 467 757 35c 051c

In the years since I completed my translation of the Revelation of John, I have received criticism from readers that I, like the UBS and the NA27, was cherry-picking what manuscripts I cited in my footnote apparatus. So, to solve that complaint, I have changed to using one very objective and indisputable criterion: I cite ALL witnesses 9th century and earlier, and I cite NO witnesses later than the 9th century. Consistently cited Greek witnesses therefore in this edition without the Greek text interlinear (where text is extant) for Revelation are these thirty-one: \(\text{p}^{18}\), \(\text{p}^{24}\), \(\text{p}^{43}\), \(\text{p}^{47}\), \(\text{p}^{85}\), \(\text{p}^{98}\), \(\text{p}^{115}\), \(\text{K}\), A, C, P, 052, 0163, 0169, 0207, 0308. If there is a hiatus in any of the above, it will be noted, except if that manuscript is only a fragment anyway. Fragmentary mss. not therefore listed for hiatus, would be: \(\text{p}^{18}\), \(\text{p}^{24}\), \(\text{p}^{43}\), \(\text{p}^{47}\), \(\text{p}^{85}\), \(\text{p}^{98}\), \(\text{p}^{115}\), 052, 0163, 0169, 0207, 0308. If you want to find out the readings of many of the minuscules, you can read the endnotes in the back of my longer edition; and to a lesser degree, in its footnotes. We really should not include anywhere, mss. 296 and 2049, which were merely handwritten copies of printed editions. Hoskier stated this plainly in several places of his work; see the table of MSS. at the end of the above-linked longer document.
The Revelation of John

Chapter 1

Prologue

¹The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave to him, to show to his servants what things must soon take place, and which he signified when he sent it via his angel to his servant John, ²who has confirmed as the word of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ, what all things¹ he saw.

⁴John, to the seven churches in Asia, grace to you, and peace, from Him who is, and who was, and who is to come, and from the seven spirits before his throne, ⁵and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the firstborn from the dead, and ruler over the kings of the earth. ⁶To him who loves us, and freed us from our sins with his blood, ⁷and made us into a kingdom of priests for his God and Father – to him be glory and power, for ever and ever. Amen.

⁸Behold, he is coming with the clouds, and every eye shall see him, including of those who pierced him. ⁹And all the peoples of the earth shall beat their breasts over him.

The TR reading is based on about eight late and unimportant mss. The first reading preserves the formula for the divine name that had arisen from rabbinical exegesis of Exodus 3:14 ἐγώ εἰμι ὁ ὤν (ֶֽה ְיֶֶ֖ה ֶֽה יֶֶ֑ה ֲשֶֶׁ֣ר ֶֽה יֶֶ֑ה)
¹⁴¹:5a Or, "the faithful martyr." The Greek word translated witness here is martyr, and there is good reason it came to have the connotation of one who is killed for his witness. For that is what happened to Jesus Christ, and also to Antipas, mentioned later in this book in 2:13, where he is also called a faithful witness/martyr.

The "freed" reading is reminiscent of λέλυται αὐτῆς ἡ ἁμαρτία in Isaiah 40:2, and it fits better with the preposition ἐν, see other footnote on this verse.
¹⁶¹:5c This is a Hebraistic use of the preposition "en" meaning "with" in the sense of what item or money you use to pay for something. For example, "I bought the camera with the money you gave me." Jesus' blood was the thing of value exchanged for our freedom. This use of this preposition is a pointer in favor of the "freed" reading versus the "washed" reading, according to the Textual Commentary on the Greek New Testament. That copyists, not understanding this, thought that "washed in" made more sense than "freed in."

8"I am the Alpha and the Omega," says the Lord God, "the one who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty."

Someone Like a Son of Man

9I, John, your brother and fellow in the oppression and kingdom and endurance in Jesus, was on the island called Patmos because of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus. 10I was in the Spirit during the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a loud voice, like of a trumpet, saying, 11"What you see, write in a book, and send it to the seven churches— to Ephesus, and to Smyrna, and to Pergamum, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea."

12And I turned around to see the voice that was speaking with me. And when I turned, I saw seven golden lampstands, and in among the lampstands was someone like a son of man, dressed in a cloak reaching down to his feet, and gird around at the pecs with a golden sash, except his head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow, and his eyes like flames of fire, and his feet like bronze as if made to glow in a furnace, and his voice like the sound of many waters, and he was holding in his right hand seven stars, and out of his mouth was coming a sharp two-edged sword, and his face was like the sun shining in the strength of it.

13 1:13c If this were talking about the menora of Exodus chapter 25, then Tyndale's rendering, "in the midst of the candlesticks" would be most accurate, since with the menora there was only one lampstand, with 6 branches going out sideways, and one in the middle. But if there are 7 free standing, separate, lampstands, a rendering like "in among the lampstands" is better. In our context here, the 7 lampstands refer to the seven churches of Asia Minor, Rev 1:20. Jesus "walks among the seven golden lampstands," Rev. 2:1. These lampstands are in jeopardy of being removed. Rev 2:5 says Jesus "will remove your lampstand from its place, unless you repent.

Therefore I conclude that these lampstands are not the menora of Exodus.

15 1:13a It is customary to render this phrase as "like a Son of Man," so that it reminds the reader of this phrase in the prophets Ezekiel and Daniel, etc. But it would be more accurate to translate it "like a human," because that is what seems to be the emphasis here in contrast to later given non-human traits. John first gives traits of him that are human, and then he begins verse 14 with "but," and proceeds in the next several verses to tell us traits that are not human.

16 1:13e Literally, "breasts."- mastoîs but that would be very unidiomatic for English, and it essentially means chest, as in 15:6, where the seven angels also have a golden sash around their chest, and there the Greek word used is στήθος, "chest." But I didn't want to translate mastoîs as a singular word like chest, when the Greek is plural, so I used "pecs" which is short for pectorals.
And when I saw him, I fell down by his feet as though dead. And he placed his right hand on me, saying, "Do not fear. I am the First and the Last, ¹⁸ and the Living One, and I was dead, and behold, living for ever and ever,¹⁷ and I have the keys of death and of Hades.¹⁸

To the Church in Ephesus

¹ "To the angel of the church in Ephesus, write: 'These things says He who grips the seven stars in his right hand, who walks among the seven golden lampstands:
² "I know your works, and your toil and endurance, and how you are not able to tolerate evil people, and have put to the test those who call themselves apostles and are not and have found them to be liars; ³ and you have endurance, and have held up for the sake of my name, and not become weary.
⁴ "But I have against you that you have left your first love. ⁵ Remember therefore from where you have fallen, and repent and do your first works; otherwise I am coming to you¹⁹ and will remove your lampstand from its place, unless you repent.
⁶ "But this you have, that you hate the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.
⁷ He who has an ear should listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches. To him who overcomes, I will grant to eat from the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God.

To the Church in Smyrna

⁸ "And to the angel of the church in Smyrna, write: 'These things says the First and the Last, who was dead and came alive again: ⁹ "I know your affliction and your poverty (but you are rich) and the blasphemy of those claiming to be Jews and are not but are a synagogue of Satan. ¹⁰ Don't be afraid of any of the things you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, so that you may be tried, and you will have affliction for ten days. Be faithful until death, and I will give you the crown of life. ¹¹ He who has an ear should listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches. To the Church in Pergamum

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamum, write: 'These things says He who has the sharp two-edged sword: ¹³I know where you live, ¹⁴but I have a few things against you, that you have some there who hold to the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to put a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat idol sacrifices and to commit sexual immorality. ¹⁵So also in the same way you have some who hold to the teaching of the Nicolaitans. ¹⁶Repent therefore. Otherwise I am coming to you soon, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

To the Church in Thyatira

18 And to the angel of the church in Thyatira, write: 'These things says the Son of God, he who has his eyes like flames of fire and his feet like glowing bronze: ¹⁹I know your works and love and faith and service, and your perseverance, how your last works are greater than your first. ²⁰But I have against you ²¹that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and teaches, and leads my servants astray, to commit sexual immorality and to eat things sacrificed to idols. 21 And I have given her time to repent, and she is not willing to repent of her sexual immorality. 22 Behold, I am casting her onto a bed, along with the ones committing adultery with her, for an affliction of great magnitude, unless they repent of her works. 23 And her children I will destroy in death; and all the churches will know that I am He who searches minds and hearts, and that I will pay to each of you according to your works.

24 And to the rest of you in Thyatira I say, as many as do not hold to these teachings—the ones who have not known 'the deep things of Satan,' as they say, I am not laying any further burden upon you. 25 Except what things you have, hold on to them until I come. 26 And he who overcomes and keeps my works to the end, I will give him authority over the nations, 27 and he will rule them with a rod of iron, shattering them to pieces like pots of clay, 28 even as I also have received from my Father, 29 and I will give to him the morning star.

29 "He who has an ear should listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches."

Chapter 3

To the Church in Sardis

1 "And to the angel of the church in Sardis, write: 'These things says He who has the seven spirits of God and the seven stars: 'I know your works, how you have the name that you are living, and you are dead. 2 Be watchful, and strengthen the things that remain, which are about to die. 3 For I have not found your works satisfactorily.'"

22a The Greek says nefroùs, kidneys. Different languages and cultures use varying body parts for designating the seat of desire and affection. This use of "kidneys" isn't any less reasonable than how we use the heart for some things. The heart of course is really just a muscle. The tribe I was raised with in Papua New Guinea used several body organs. They would say, "God cleansed my stomach, and came in to live in my liver." This use of the kidneys came from the Hebrew culture, and the King James Version and older English translations render it "reins." (When you look at a picture in a medical book of the tubes coming down from the kidneys to the bladder, it does look like reins on a horse.) And according to Diodorus, the kidneys and the heart were the only organs left in the body cavity by Egyptian embalmers. See also Jeremiah 11:20; 17:10; 20:12.

22c The Textus Receptus is very faulty in this verse; it adds two instances of the Greek word καὶ, "and," which are not in the Greek manuscripts. Thus the KJV erroneously reads the extra "and"s.

28. Jesus is saying that he will give to us who overcome, the same authority that he himself has been given according to Psalm 2:9. See also Psalm 149:4-9.

32. The readings in support of the "throw away" reading are very variable from each other. There are a large number of other variants in the late minuscules. The exact TR reading is not attested. But the TR reading is in agreement in essential meaning with the NA27. Hoskier declares that no ancient complete before my God.\textsuperscript{33} Remember therefore how you received and how you heard, and maintain that, and repent. Now then, if you are not watchful, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what hour I will come upon you.

\textsuperscript{4}``But you do have a few names in Sardis who have not defiled their garments, and they will walk with me in white,\textsuperscript{34} because they are worthy. \textsuperscript{5}He who overcomes in this way\textsuperscript{35} shall be dressed in garments of white, and I will never wipe his name out of the book of life, and I will confess his name before my Father and before his angels. \textsuperscript{6}He who has an ear should listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches.''

\textit{To the Church in Philadelphia}

\textsuperscript{7}``And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia, write: ‘These things says the Holy One, the True One, the one holding the key of David, who opens and no one closes, and closes and no one opens:’\textsuperscript{36} \textsuperscript{8}``I know your works, (behold, before you I have provided an open door, which no one is able to close) how you have little power, yet have kept my word, and have not denied my name.

\textsuperscript{9}``Behold I will bring of the synagogue of Satan, of those claiming to be Jews and are not, but are lying; behold, I will make them such that they will come and fall down before your feet and know that I have loved you.\textsuperscript{10}``Because you have kept my word about endurance, I also will keep you from the hour of trial which is about to come upon the whole inhabited earth, to try those dwelling on the earth.

\textsuperscript{11}``I am coming soon. Hold fast to what you have, so that no one takes away your reward. \textsuperscript{12}He who overcomes, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God, and he will never depart outside anymore, and I will write on him the name of my God and the name of the city of my God, the New Jerusalem, which is coming down out of heaven from my God, and also my new name.
To the Church in Laodicea

14"And to the angel of the church in Laodicea, write, ‘These things says the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God: 15'I know your works, that you are neither hot nor cold. 16I would rather you were either hot or cold. 17Thus, because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I am about to spew you out of my mouth.

17'Because you say 'I am rich; I have acquired wealth and have need of nothing,' and do not know that you are wretched and pitiful and poor and blind and naked, 18I counsel you to purchase from me gold purified by fire so you will be rich, and white garments so you will be clothed and your shameful nakedness not exposed, and salve to anoint your eyes so you will see. 19All whom I love, I punish and discipline. Be zealous therefore, and repent.

20'Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and dine with him and he with me. 21To him who overcomes, I will grant to sit with me on my throne, just as I also overcame and sat with my Father on his throne. 22He who has an ear should listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches.”

Chapter 4

The Throne in Heaven

1After these things I looked, and behold, an open door in heaven, and a voice speaking with me, the voice like a trumpet I had heard at first; and it was saying, "Come up here, and I will show you what things must take place after this."

2Immediately I was in the Spirit; and behold, there was situated in heaven a throne, and on the throne someone sitting. 3And the one sitting was like jasper stone and carnelian in appearance. 4And an aura encircles the throne, like emerald in appearance. And an aura encircles the throne, like emerald in appearance.

3:15 The Greek says "cold or hot." But that is not idiomatic in English. In English we always say "hot or cold."

3:20 This sounds like the same man who wrote the gospel of John. Compare John 14:3,20,23; 15:4

There is a passage in Ezekiel containing many similarities to this passage, Ezekiel 1:26-28, and there the throne is described as looking like stones similar to here. One wonders if some copyists conformed this passage to the one in Ezekiel. It seems more appropriate to describe a throne in terms of stones rather than a person. Yet the one seated is not human. So was the situation instead that some copyists were trying to clarify that it was the one sitting that was like that in appearance. At any rate, the stone carnelian is flesh-colored. One could understand either reading as referring to the one sitting. On the one hand, the rule of "lectio brevior lectio potior" favors the shorter reading here. The shorter reading makes fine sense, by simply putting a comma between verses 2 and 3. It seems reasonable that the longer reading is an added explanatory phrase. On the other hand, the seeming redundancy of the NA27 reading, after v. 2 having just said, “someone sitting” already, is very Johannine in style.

And in between the throne and the circle around the throne are four living beings, full of eyes, front and back. ⁷And the first being is like a lion, and the second being like an ox, and the third being has a human face, and the fourth being is like an eagle in flight. ⁸And the four beings, every one of them has six wings each, which are covered completely around with eyes, even inward. And they take no rest day or night, continually saying, "Holy, holy, holy ⁹is the Lord God Almighty, who was and who is and who is to come." ¹⁰And whenever the beings give glory and honor and thanks to the one sitting on the throne, to him who lives for ever and ever, the twenty-four elders will fall down before him who sits on the throne, and worship him who lives for ever and ever, and they will place their crowns before the throne, saying, ¹¹"You are worthy, our Lord and our God, to receive glory and honor and power, for you created all things, and for your purpose they exist and were created."
Chapter 5

Who is Worthy to Open the Scroll?

1 And I saw upon the right hand of the one sitting on the throne a scroll, written on, inside and back, sealed up with seven seals. 2 And I saw a powerful angel, heralding in a loud voice: "Who is worthy to open the scroll, and to break the seals of it?"

3 And no one was able, not in heaven nor on the earth nor under the earth, to open the scroll, or even to look at it. 4 And I was weeping greatly, that no one worthy was found to open the scroll, or even to look at it. 5 Then one of the elders is saying to me, "Do not weep. Look, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, he has overcome, so as to open the scroll and the seven seals of it."

6 And I saw in between the throne and the four living beings and the elders, a lamb, postured as though slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God sent forth into all the earth. 7 And he went and took the scroll from the right hand of the One sitting on the throne.

8 And when he had taken the scroll, the four living beings and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each one holding a lyre and a golden bowl filled with incenses, which are the prayers of the saints,

9 and they began singing a new song, saying: "You are worthy to take the scroll, and to open the seals of it, because you were slain, and thereby purchased some..."

13 And every creature that was in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and in the sea, and all the things that were in them, I heard saying, "Blessing and honor, glory and power, be to Him who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb, for ever and ever!"\(^59\)

The Seven Seals

1 And I watched as62 the Lamb opened the first of the seven seals. And I heard one of the four living beings saying in a thunderous voice, "Come."63 2 And I looked, and behold, a white horse, and the one sitting on it holding a bow, and to him was given a crown, and he went out conquering and to conquer.

3 And when the Lamb opened the second seal, I heard the voice of the second being saying, "Come." 4 And another horse came, a red one, and the one sitting on it, to him the order was given to take peace away from the earth, that is, so that they slaughter one another. And to him was given a large sword.

5 And when the third seal was opened, I heard the voice of the third being saying, "Come." 6 And I looked,64 and behold, a black horse, and the one sitting on it holding a pair of scales in his hands. 6 And I heard a voice as if in the midst of the one, in my edition of Revelation that includes the Greek text, http://bibletranslation.ws/trans/revwgrk.pdf

In other words, they do not bolster the Textus Receptus as sources for the Textus Receptus, because they ARE the Textus Receptus. See where Hoskier states this in Text Volume 2, p. 156, lines 26,27, where he says "Negl. 57 et 141 ex ed. typ. exscripti." 9 And when the fifth seal was opened, I saw beneath the altar, the souls of those slain for the word of God and for the witness that they were bearing. 10 And they cried out with a loud voice, saying, "Until when, O Master, holy and true, are you refraining from adjudicating and avenging our blood from those who dwell on the earth?"

11 And they were given each a white robe, and it was prescribed for them that they would take rest a little while longer, until the number of their fellow-servants and brethren was also complete, those about to be killed even as they.

The Sixth Seal

12 And I watched as he opened the sixth seal, and a mighty earthquake took place, and the sun became black like animal hair sack-cloth, and the full moon became like blood, and the stars of heaven fell to the earth, as a fig tree shaken by a strong wind casts its unripe figs, and the sky retreated like a scroll being rolled up, and every mountain and island was removed from its place.

13 And the kings of the earth, and the great and the generals and the rich and the powerful, and everyone, slave and free, hid themselves in caverns, and among the rocks of the mountains, and they are saying to the mountains and to the rocks, "Fall on us, and hide us from the face of the One sitting on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb; for the great day of their wrath has come, and who will be able to stand?"

Chapter 7

The 144,000 Sealed

1After this⁷³ I saw four angels standing at the four points of the earth, holding back the four winds of the earth, so that no wind would blow upon the earth, or upon the sea or upon any tree.

2And I saw another angel rising up from the east, holding the seal of the living God, and he cried out in a very great voice toward the four angels to whom the orders had been given to harm the earth and the sea, ³saying, "Do not harm the earth or the sea or the trees until we have sealed the servants of our God on their foreheads."

4And I heard the number of the ones sealed, 144,000, sealed from every tribe of the sons of Israel: ⁵from the tribe of Judah twelve thousand were sealed, from the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand, from the tribe of Gad twelve thousand, ⁶from the tribe of Asher twelve thousand, from the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand, from the tribe of Manasseh⁷ four twelve thousand, ⁷from the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand, from the tribe of Levi twelve thousand, from the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand, ⁸from the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand, from the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand, from the tribe of Benjamin twelve thousand were sealed.

The Multitude out of the Tribulation

⁹After these things I looked, and behold, a great multitude, which no one could count, from every nation and tribe and people and language, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, dressed in white robes, and palm branches in their hands; ¹⁰and they are shouting out with a loud voice, saying, "Salvation is with our God who sits on the throne, and with the Lamb!"

¹¹And all the angels had stood in a circle around the throne and around the elders and the four living beings, and they fell on their faces before the throne and worshiped God, ¹²saying, "Amen. Blessing and glory and wisdom and thanks and honor and power and strength be to our God for ever and ever. Amen."

¹³And one of the elders responded saying to me, "These wearing the white robes, who are they, and where did they come from?"

¹⁴And I spoke⁷⁵ to him, "My lord, you know."

And he said to me, "These are those coming out of the great tribulation, and they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. ¹⁵Because

The 7th Seal: the Seven Trumpets

¹And when he opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour. ²And I saw the seven angels which stand before God, and seven trumpets were given to them. ³And another angel came and stood at the altar, holding a golden censer, and many incenses were given to him so that he might present the prayers of all the saints at the golden altar which is before the throne. ⁴And the smoke of the incenses went up before God from the hand of the angel mingled with the prayers of the saints. ⁵And the angel took the censer and filled it with the burning incense, and he hurled it to the earth; and there came rumblings and voices and peals of thunder, and earthquakes. ⁶And the seven angels who had the seven trumpets readied themselves to play.

⁷And the first one sounded his trumpet; and there came hail and fire mixed with blood, and it was rained on the earth. And one third of the earth was burned up, ⁷⁷ and one third of the trees were burned up, and all the green grass was burned up.
⁸And the second angel sounded his trumpet; and something like a huge mountain burning with fire ⁷⁸ was hurled into the sea. And one third of the sea was turned to blood, ⁹and one third of the creatures that have lives ⁷⁹ in the sea died, and one third of the ships were destroyed.

This omission is a clear case of “homoioteleuton” that happened in the Greek copying process.
That means, the lines end the same, so a copyist, having left off his work for a break, then resumed doing his work, and he remembers, “I resume, at the line ending with κατεκάη,” but he resumed with the wrong line ending with κατεκάη. Skipped one line by accident.
Homoioteleuton. Or, it could have been a case of "homoioarcton," that is, all three lines BEGIN the same, with καὶ, and the scribe having left off, resumed, thinking, "I resume with the line

And the fourth angel sounded his trumpet; and a third of the sun was struck, and a third of the moon and a third of the stars, such that one third of their light was darkened and a third of the daylight would not be shined, and the same with the night.

Chapter 9
The Fifth Trumpet

And the fifth angel sounded his trumpet; and I saw a fallen star, fallen out of heaven onto earth, and the key to the bottomless pit had been given to him. He opened the bottomless pit, and smoke ascended from the pit like smoke from a giant furnace. And the sun and the sky became dark from the smoke of the pit. And from the smoke, locusts went out over the earth, and they were given a power like the power that the scorpions of Earth have.

to draw hard and fast lines between the meanings of this many-sided word." It would certainly be silly to render this instance of the word as "lives," as follows: "one third of the creatures in the sea died, those having lives." It is very unlikely that any author would feel the need to make clear that it was those creatures that had lives, that died. This seems to be a demonstrative phrase, specifying some particular subset of creatures. "Those that have breath" seems possible, as in conformance with the usage in Genesis. Compare LXX Genesis 1:30, those having the breath of life; and 2:7, where the man became a soul when he received the breath of life through his nostrils. Further, the LXX in Genesis 1:20-23 calls those sea creatures that breathe, such as whales and snakes, "souls." But then the question arises why the bloody sea would kill only air-breathers. The problematic phrase, τὰ ἔχοντα ψυχὰς, with the nominative definite article, is commented on in the BDF grammar in § 136(1) as follows, "Revelation exhibits a quantity of striking solecisms which are based especially on inattention to agreement (a rough style), in contrast to the rest of the NT and to the other writings ascribed to John: (1) An appositional phrase (or circumstantial participle) is often found in the nominative instead of an oblique case (§ 137(3))." The only reasonable apposition or circumstance seems to be as worded above: "those that have lives in the sea."

The verb 'was darkened' is singular. I don't think it is saying that one third of 'them were darkened,' but rather one third of something singular 'was darkened,' and the meaning is that one third of their strength, one third of the collective light was darkened. What it is NOT saying is that one third of the number of them were totally dark. And probably not that one third of the duration of the day or night was dark. It is saying that the day and the night were each only two thirds as light as normal. See Isaiah 13:10; Ezekiel 32:7; Joel 3:15

That is, a fallen angel. Angels are called stars also in Judges 5:20; Job 38:7; Isaiah 14:13; Daniel 8:10 / Rev. 12:4; Rev. 1:20. In this verse in Revelation, it is a "fallen star," which is another way to refer to a demon; one of the 1/3 of the angels that Satan took with him when he was expelled from heaven.
4 And it was commanded them that they not harm the grass of the earth or anything green or any tree, but only humans who do not have the seal of God on their foreheads. 5 And orders were given them that they not kill them, but that they be tormented for five months. And their torment will be like the pain of a scorpion when it strikes a person. 6 And during those days the people will seek death, and will not find it. Yes, they will long earnestly to die, and death will elude them.

7 And the appearance of the locusts was like horses outfitted for war, and on their heads something like golden crowns, and their faces like human faces, and they had hair like the hair of women, and their teeth were like lions' teeth, and they had thoraxes like breastplates of iron, and the sound of their wings was like the sound of many chariot horses rushing to battle. And they have tails like scorpions, and stingers, and in their tails their power to do harm to humans for five months. They have as king over them the angel of the Abyss. His name in Hebrew is Abaddōn, and in Greek he has the name Apollyōn.

83 9:4 Compare ch. 6:6, "A quart of wheat for a day's wage, or three barley loaves for a day's wage. And don't you damage the oil or wine." An implication here about the green grass and trees, from the commandment to the locusts that they not damage anything green, could be that green things will be precious and rare in those days already, before all these plagues take place. On the other hand, locusts' natural inclination would be to eat such, and they are being commanded to do otherwise.

84 9:12 The Greek words I rendered "after all this" are "meta tauta." This phrase is usually found, in Revelation, at the beginning of a sentence, not the end as here. Therefore, there seems to be an emphasis put on this phrase by putting it last. And the word "behavior" adds to the emphasis.

And he released the four angels, held ready for that hour and day and month and year in order to kill one third of humanity. And the number of their mounted troops was 200,000,000. I heard the number of them.

And this is how I saw the horses in the vision, and those sitting on them: Having breastplates like fire, that is, dusky red and sulphur colored; and the heads of the horses like heads of lions, and from their mouths comes fire and smoke and sulphur. By these three plagues, of the fire and smoke and sulphur coming from their mouths, one third of humanity was killed. Now the power of the horses is in their mouths and in their tails; for their tails are like snakes, having heads, and with these they do injury.

And the rest of humanity, those who were not killed by these plagues, they did not repent, neither of the works of their hands, such that they worship demons and idols made of gold and silver and bronze and stone and wood, which can neither see nor hear nor walk, and neither did they repent of their murders, nor their sorceries, nor their sexual immorality, nor their thefts.

Chapter 11

The Two Witnesses

1 And a reed was given to me, like a measuring rod, as he was saying, "Get up, and measure the temple of God along with the altar and those worshiping in it.

2 And the outer courtyard of the temple you shall exclude, and not measure it, for it has been given to the Gentiles, and they will trample on the holy city for forty-two months. 3 And I will give authority to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy for 1,260 days clothed in sackcloth."

4 These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands which stand before the Lord of the earth.

5 And if anyone wants to harm them, fire comes from their mouths and consumes their enemies. And if anyone would want to harm them, this is how he ought to be killed.

6 These have the authority to shut up the sky so that no rain will fall during the days of their prophesying, and they have authority over the waters to turn them into blood, and to strike the earth with any kind of plague as often as they wish.

7 And when they complete their witness, the beast coming up out of the bottomless pit will make war with them, and will conquer them and kill them.

8 And their corpses lie on the boulevard of the great city which is spiritually named Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. 9 And from peoples and tribes and languages and nations they see their corpses for three and a half days. And they are not allowing their corpses to be placed in a grave.

10 And those dwelling on the earth rejoice over them, and celebrate, and will send gifts to one another. For these two prophets had tormented those dwelling on the earth.

And they heard a great voice from heaven saying to them, "Come up here." And they went up into heaven in a cloud, and their enemies watched them. And in that hour a great earthquake took place, and one tenth of the city collapsed, and 7,000 people were killed. And the survivors were terrified, and they gave glory to the God of heaven.

And the seventh angel sounded his trumpet; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, "The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord, and of his Christ! And he shall reign for ever and ever!" The twenty-four elders, who sit on their thrones before God, fell on their faces and worshiped God, saying, "We thank you, Lord God Almighty, who is and who was, that you have taken that great power of yours and begun to reign. And the nations have become angry, and your anger also has come, and the time for the dead to be judged, and reward to be given to your servants the prophets and to the saints and to those fearing your name, both small and great, and to destroy the ones destroying the earth."

And the temple of God in heaven opened, and the ark of his covenant was seen in his temple; and there came peals of thunder, voices and rumblings and an earthquake, and large hailstones.

Chapter 12
The Woman, Her Seed, and the Dragon

1 And a great sign was seen in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars, and being with child, and crying out with contractions and anguish to deliver.

2 And another sign was seen in heaven, and behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads seven crowns, and his tail is pulling one third of the stars from heaven; and it threw them to the earth. And the dragon took his stand in front of the woman who was about to deliver, so that he might devour the child whenever it was born.

3 And she bore a son, a male child, who was destined to shepherd all the nations with a rod of iron. And her child was snatched up to God and to his throne.

4 And the woman fled to the desert, to where she has a place prepared there by God, so that there they might take care of her for 1,260 days.

5 And there was war in heaven, Michael and his angels must make war with the dragon. And the dragon made war, and his angels also, and he was not strong enough, neither was their place found anymore in heaven. And the great dragon was thrown out, that ancient serpent, which is called the Devil and Satan, who deceives the whole world, he was thrown to the earth, and his angels thrown along with him.

6 And I heard a great voice in heaven, saying, "Now has come the salvation and power and kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ; for the accuser of our brethren has been thrown out, the one accusing them before our God day and night, and these have overcome him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony, and they did not love their lives even unto death.

7 For the devil has come down to you with great fury, because he knows that he has but little time."
And when the dragon saw that he was thrown to the earth, he went after the woman that bore the male child. And she was given the two wings of a great eagle to fly to the desert to that place of hers where she gets taken care of for a time, times, and half a time, away from the face of the serpent.

And the serpent poured water from his mouth like a river after the woman, to cause her to be swept away by a flood, and the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed the flood that the dragon had poured from his mouth.

And the dragon was enraged over the woman, and went off to make war with the rest of her seed, those keeping the commandments of God and bearing the witness of Jesus.

And he stood at the shore of the sea.

This textual difference about who or what was standing at the shore of the sea, is what determines whether a Greek New Testament edition places this sentence here as verse 18 in this context, or places this sentence in Chapter 13:1. Thus, since the TR and RP editions follow the second reading, they place this sentence in 13:1, with John the one standing rather than the dragon. The UBS textual commentary says that the latter reading appears to have arisen when copyists accommodated the 3rd person 'he stood' to the first person of the following 'I saw.' It is attractive to make it John the one standing on the shore of the sea, since the next thing he does is observe a beast rising out of the sea. But it also makes perfect sense that the dragon stood at the shore of the sea, because it was expecting or bringing up the beast out of the sea. We have just read in the previous verse that the dragon went to make war with the woman's seed, and this is how he made war: he brought up the beast from the sea, which later in 13:7 of this chapter makes war on the saints and conquers them.

Some translations interpret this phrase, "on its heads were names" as saying "each" head had a [different] name, and others that each head had more than one name on each. The reason I went with the rendering I have is that the singular can be understood either way; that is, "on its heads a name that is blasphemy" can be interpreted as "each a different name," so thus "names" plural, or that they all had the same blasphemous name. Conversely, the plural "names" could be understood distributively. I chose to do this for the reason that I am not persuaded either way as to which is the correct manuscript reading. What is really different is interpreters that see this as meaning each head had more than one name on it, like the CEV & NLT: "On each of its heads were names..." Interesting that the Douay-Rheims has the plural when all its contemporaries had the singular. My thinking is like the NIV rendering: "and on each head a blasphemous name." It seems to me that "head" being plural might have assimilated "name" over to the plural.

It is a principle of Textual Criticism that when there is a large set of variations on a reading, it is suspect. Such is the case here with the present indicative active reading. The UBS Textual Commentary says: "Among the dozen variant readings, the least unsatisfactory appears to be ἀποκτάνθηναι, αὐτὸν, ["is to be killed, he,"] supported by Codex Alexandrinus. As in the first two lines of the verse, the third and fourth lines teach (as does also Jr 15:2, on which the saying rests) the duty of endurance and the fulfillment of the will of God. Perhaps under the influence of such sayings as Mt 26:52 (πάντες γὰρ οἱ λαβόντες μάχαιραν ἐν μαχαίρῃ ἀπολούνται), copyists modified in various ways the difficult Greek construction (which, as Charles points out, seems to be a literal rendering of a distinctively Hebrew idiom, "if anyone is to be slain with the sword, he is to be slain with the sword") and introduced the idea of retribution (persecutors will be requited in strict accord with the lex talionis).” See also Jeremiah 15:2.

13:16a The Greek word is poióē, which Bauer in I 1 b θ says here means "make to, cause someone to, bring it about that." With hina and a subjunctive verb in place of the infinitive. So in this case what people are caused to do would be to didômi, in the 3rd person plural subjunctive, "they give." So therefore we have this phrase, "He causes everyone to give to them a mark." Everyone will be giving a mark to whom? To themselves. Yes, that is the primary meaning of the pronoun 'autos' here. Many translations have rendered didōmi as "receive." Tyndale did it, though there were a few manuscripts that had the Greek word for receive here. But "receive" is not lexically supported as a possible meaning of didōmi. Again, it is fashionable to render 3rd person plural actives as passives; see for example Mark 4:21, erchetai, "exist"; Luke 12:20, apaitousin "they are demanding"; Rev. 10:11, legousin, "they are saying"; Rev. 11:1, legōn, "as he is saying"; Rev. 12:6, trephōsin, "they might take care," and other examples. I am saying that I rendered all these as actives, and they work fine that way. So there is no reason compelling enough to break the rules of grammar. The only reason I can come up with for this trend, is that it is their idea of an "impersonal" verb. Yes, a general "they" is impersonal, but that is still not a reason to make an active verb passive. It is perfectly colloquial and grammatical to say "they call him Jesus," etc. The only justification for making an active verb passive that I know of in the grammars, is the Aramaic 3rd person plural impersonal; see next footnote. But that is a rare and questionable occurrence, and the burden of proof is on the one asserting that it is happening.

This is a fact that the Greek grammars say that an "impersonal" verb in Greek grammar is in the 3rd person SINGULAR. I conclude that this is a deliberate change in the Greek text to correct grammar.

The TR has the verb "give" in 3rd person singular, δωση, and subjunctive aorist. The TR reading reflects an attempt I think to conform the clause to the standard Greek configuration for an “impersonal” verb, where there is no subject as a giver, and the verb is turned passive. Thus, “they might be given.” This is a fact that the Greek grammars say that an “impersonal” verb in Greek grammar is in the 3rd person SINGULAR. I conclude that this is a deliberate change in the Greek text to correct grammar.

The TR reading is a small minority reading, in later manuscripts, and probably not the authorial text. Could it be conforming it to the Latin of Irenaeus and Victorinus? Or is it influenced by the late Syriac?

The majority reading, of the verb as 3rd person plural, and the object being αὐτοῖς, is unusual Greek, and there are really only two options as to how to make it intelligible as it is.

Option 1, the word αὐτοῖς is a contraction of ἑαυτοῖς, and means “they give themselves.” This is the way the scribe of ms. 1828 saw it, which reads δῶσιν ἑαυτοῖς, and this is certainly a real possibility. The ambiguity of αὐτοῖς with αὑτοῖς (ἑαυτοῖς) is a common textual variant in Revelation that I have seen. Remember, the uncials and papyri did not have breathing marks. So, αὐτοῖς, even with the smooth breathing mark, can easily and rightly be understood as reflexive, and mean “themselves.” So the scribe of ms. 1828 was either correcting grammar, or merely understanding αὐτοῖς as a contraction of ἑαυτοῖς. And it is possible that his exemplar had the long form ἑαυτοῖς.

Option 2, is what M. Black, in An Aramaic Approach to the Gospels and Acts, pp. 126-128, would call an Aramaism, and be a “third person plural impersonal” and the meaning be similar to what the Philoxenian and Harklean Syriac read, “they be given” or “they receive.” The TR reading with its 3rd singular verb would not qualify as the Aramaic impersonal remember.

An Aramaism is an unusual and rare occurrence, and I think the burden of proof that it is occurring, is on the one saying it. That said, I have come to believe that Revelation does show an Aramaic mind in its author. For example, though even ancient Greek the words for foot πούς and hand χείρ originally meant the whole limb, not just the foot and hand, this is most definitely always true in Hebrew and Aramaic. The author of Revelation uses πούς, “foot” to mean the whole limb, where he says the feet of the angel were like “columns” of fire. Legs are like columns, and makes it so that no one is able to buy or sell without having the mark— the name of the beast or the number of his name. Here is wisdom: he who has the and feet are not. Therefore similarly, we must conclude that in Revelation 13:16, with χείρ the author means anywhere on the entire upper right limb, not just the hand.

In The Morphology of Koine Greek As Used in the Apocalypse of St. John: A Study, G. Mussies states, “The 3rd person singular is the category which is used when the verb is impersonal,” p. 232. Regarding 3rd person plurals as passives in Revelation, Steven Thomson in his book, The Apocalypse and Semitic Syntax, Cambridge, he says on p. 21 that there are two instances: in 2:24 and 8:2. He says the ως λέγουν in 2:24 means “what is called” the deep things of Satan. (I disagree with this. I translate it as follows: “the deep things of Satan,” as they say.’ In 8:2 the Greek text says έδοθσαν αὐτοῖς which is already passive. His example is from a Coptic text! Thomson does not mention this situation in 13:16. But I say, there were many, many opportunities for the proposed Aramaism to show up in Revelation, and it did not; so why must this here be such an example? I say this is not such, and I am saying here that the subject of this verb is the recipients, because autois in Revelation very often means “themselves,” even without the rough breathing mark. At any rate, if the beast “causes all to receive a mark,” the recipients are still getting it for themselves, unless the beast or his agent captures each individual, ties them down, and forces the mark onto them. But if that were the case, would God be able to hold them responsible for it? I don’t believe so. So I am saying that you will have to get it for yourself, and then God can hold you responsible for doing it.

The Greek word translated "mark," χαράγμα - káragma, means a poke into the flesh. (Perhaps like this: http://www.wsj.com/articles/when-information-storage-gets-under-your-skin-1474251062 ) It also had the meaning of an etching, branding, carving, engraving or stamp. Slaves had a poke in the flesh of their ear to show ownership. So here also, the mark of the beast will show one's voluntary allegiance to the beast and submission to the ownership of the beast. I get the impression from translating this passage that this mark will be self-arranged; that is, people will be told to do it, but nevertheless they ultimately do it voluntarily. They themselves are responsible for making sure they have it, if they want to buy or sell. In other words, it need not be mandatory by law, but life will be extremely hard without it. How could a government give the mark to 20 billion people by force in the remotest jungle? On the other hand, economic incentives have historically worked very well, without the need for something being mandatory by law. Most people serve Mammon anyway, so it will be a no-brainer for most people to get the mark. It will be a blessing on the other hand, for God’s people, in that those who are serving Mammon will repent of that, and truly be content with their daily bread from God, and truly live by faith. The exciting life. Exciting to see how God will feed them each day. But we see in this book that many or most of God’s people will die or be killed during those days.

These are men who have not been defiled with women, for they are virgins. These are the ones following the Lamb wherever he goes. They were purchased from humanity as a firstfruits to God and to the Lamb, and in their mouths no falsehood has been found. They are blameless.

6And I saw another angel flying at zenith, having an eternal gospel to herald above those dwelling on the earth, even over every nation and tribe and language and people, saying in a loud voice, "Fear God and give him glory; for the hour of his judgment has come; and worship him who created the heaven and the earth and the sea and the sources of waters."

8And another angel, a second one, followed, saying, "Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the great, which had given all the nations to drink of the wine of the wrath of her whoredom."

9And another angel, a third one, followed those, saying with a loud voice, "If anyone worships the beast and his image, and takes the mark of his name.

10he shall himself also drink of the wine of the wrath of God, mixed undiluted in the cup of his anger, and he shall be tormented with fire and sulfur before the holy angels and before the Lamb. And the smoke of their torment goes up for ever and ever, and they have no relief day or night, those who worship the beast and the image of him, and anyone who takes the mark of his name."

The Angels Harvest the Earth

14And I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and someone like a son of man sitting on the cloud, having a crown of gold on his head, and a sharp sickle in his hand. 15And another angel came, from the temple, calling out in a loud voice toward the one sitting on the cloud, "Send out165 your sickle and reap, for the hour166 to reap has come, since the harvest has become dry."167

16And the one sitting on the cloud launched his sickle over the earth, and the earth was harvested.

17And another angel came from the temple that is in heaven, he also holding a sharp sickle.

162 14:13c The Greek word "hina" here is exegeetical in that it explains how specifically the dead in Christ from now on are blessed. The blessing is two-fold, they shall rest, and two, their works are with immediate appearance andeffectiveness, since it won't be long until the end of the age (and the judgment with reward) from the time they die. Perhaps this is why DE replaced GAR in some manuscripts, see the other footnotes on this verse.

165 14:15a Here the Greek verb pempo has a military operations meaning, as in, "send orders that the earth be sickled." The one in white who resembles a human is the captain of the hosts, and the agents who do the actual sickling, are his angel-soldiers, according to Matt. 13:30, 38-41. In that passage Christ "sends out his angels," and the angels gather the zizania to be burned. He explains, "The zizania are the children of the evil one, and the enemy who sows them is the devil. The harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are angels. And as the zizania are collected and consumed by fire, so it will be at the end of the age. The Son of Man will send out his angels, ..." Here again we even have the phrase Son of Man both in the Matthew passage and in Rev 14:14. Again, in Matt. 13:49-50 we read, "This is how it will be at the end of the age. The angels will go forth and will separate the evil ones from out of the midst of the righteous, 50and throw them into the furnace of fire. There will be weeping there, and gnashing of teeth." Luke 17:35-37 hints that the angels take them all to one place, where the vultures feed on them. See also the correspondence of fire, in both Matt. 13:40 and Rev. 14:18. Rev. 14:20 tells us that the people are put "outside the city" and their blood will flow as high as the horse's bridle for a distance of 180 miles. There is fire in the form of the fire of the city dump outside the city, Jerusalem. When the disciples asked Jesus where the angels take them in Luke 17:37, Jesus answered that it would be where there would be vultures gathered, that's where. The number of bleeding bodies required to produce that kind of a river of blood, would indeed attract a very large amount of vultures, eagles, crows and any other birds that eat carrion.

And another angel came from the altar, who had authority over the fire, and he called out in a loud voice to the one holding the sharp sickle, saying, "Send out your sharp sickle, and collect the clusters of the vine of the earth, for its grapes have peaked." And the angel launched his sickle onto the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and he cast it into the great winepress of God's wrath.

And the winepress outside the city was trampled, and the blood went out from the winepress as deep as the bridles of the horses for a distance of 1,600 stadia.

Chapter 15

The Seven Bowls Full of Wrath

And I saw another sign in heaven, great and awesome: seven angels having the seven last plagues, for with them is completed the wrath of God. And I saw like a sea of glass mixed with fire, and the ones overcoming of the beast and of his image and of the number of his name were standing on the glassy sea, holding lyres of God. And they are singing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, as follows,

"Great and marvelous are your deeds,
O Lord God Almighty.
Just and true are your ways,
O king of the nations."

Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify your name?
Because you alone are pure.
For all the nations will come,
and will worship before you,
because your righteous judgments have been revealed."

5And after these things I looked, and the temple of the tabernacle of testimony was opened in heaven, and out of the temple came the seven angels who had the seven plagues, dressed in clean bright linen and gird around the chest with golden sashes.  And one of the four living beings handed to the seven angels seven bowls made of gold, which were becoming full of the wrath of God, who lives for ever and ever.  And the temple was filled with smoke, from the glory of God and from his power, and no one is able to go into the temple until the seven plagues of the seven angels are carried out.

Hoskier also cites for lihov, "at non in exemplaribus ad imitandum 91, 617, 1934 etc." (I converted the Ms numbers to Gregory.) The family of minuscules 104, 336, 459, 620, 1918, are diglots, Greek and Latin, and their Latin text reads lapide, "stone." The Greek witnesses reading liunov "linen" (only a small fraction of them cited here) do not agree as to its accent and spelling. They show a very wide variety thereof. Several minuscules show knowledge of the lihov reading in their scholia (242, 250, 743, 2070, 2075, 2077, and by inference versus "txt"). Hoskier points out Ezekiel 28:13-14, where that cherub is described to be dressed in stone. So perhaps A and C harmonized to Ezekiel. There are several instances of Apocalypse manuscripts harmonizing to Daniel or to Ezekiel. Ezekiel chapter 28: "13 You were in Eden, the garden of God; every precious stone was your covering, the sardius, the topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of your tabrets and of your pipes was in you; in the day that you were created they were prepared. 14 You were the anointed cherub that covers..." Oecumenius appears completely unaware of the "linen" variant, and knows only "stone", and comments at length about these angels' clean bright stone dress. He says angels were dressed in linen, or stone of various value, depending on their power and rank. See Arethas' and Andrew's scholi on 2070 and 250. They state that angels' native condition of ceremonial purity was to be dressed in a clean stone linen. Elsewhere Arethas says of the stone, that it was "golden, transparent stone." Some points to consider: 1. The wide variety of spelling and punctuation of the liunov variant makes it suspect. 2. The reading lihov is certainly the more difficult reading, more likely to prompt revision, as the 046 stream is famous for. 3. Perhaps the reading "clean bright linen" is a harmonization to the gospels' description of angels on earth, and to the description of the armies of heaven elsewhere in Revelation, like 19:14. Or perhaps to 19:8, where the βωσινων λαμπρον καθαρον represents the righteous acts of the saints. Interesting that in both other instances of Revelation of bright clean linen, it is not the word λινον but βωσινων. See the endnote in my longer version of Revelation, for the Greek text of Oecumenius' commentary.
Chapter 16

1And I heard a great voice from the temple saying to the seven angels, "Go and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God onto the earth."

2And the first one went and poured out his bowl onto the earth. And there came a nasty and painful ulcer on the people who had the mark of the beast and on those worshiping his image.

3And the second angel poured out his bowl onto the sea. And it became blood like of the dead, and every living soul died, the ones in the sea.

4And the third angel poured out his bowl onto the rivers and the sources of the waters. And I heard the angel of the waters saying, "You are righteous, you who are and who was, O holy one, that you have judged these things, for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and you have given them blood to drink. They deserve it."

5And I heard the altar saying, "Agreed, Lord God Almighty, your punishments are true and just."

6And the fourth angel poured out his bowl on the sun. And it was given to the sun to scorch the people by fire. And the people were burned a very bad burn, and they cursed the name of God, the one having authority over these plagues, yet they did not repent to give him glory.

7And the fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast. And his kingdom became covered in darkness. And they were biting their tongues in pain, and they cursed the God of heaven, because of their pains and because of their ulcers, yet they did not repent of their works.

8And the sixth angel poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates. And it caused its water to dry up, so that a route was prepared for the kings from the east. And I saw coming from the mouth of the dragon, and from the mouth of the beast, and from the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, like frogs; for they are spirits of demons performing miracles, which are going out to the kings of the whole world, to gather them together for the war of the great day of God Almighty. (Behold, I am coming like a thief. Blessed are those keeping vigilant and guarding their garments, so they are not walking around naked and people seeing their private parts.) And He gathered them together at the place called in Hebrew Harmagedōn.

And the seventh angel poured out his bowl onto the air. And there came from the temple a loud voice by authority of the throne, saying, "It is done!" And there were lightnings and sounds and thunderings.\textsuperscript{190} And a powerful earthquake occurred, such as has not happened since humankind existed on the earth, so great an earthquake it was. \textsuperscript{19}And the great city was split into three, and the cities of the Gentiles collapsed. And Babylon the Great, it was remembered in the presence of God to give her the cup of the wine of the fury of God's wrath. \textsuperscript{20}And every island vanished away, and no mountains were found. \textsuperscript{21}And huge hailstones, about 100 pounds in weight, came down on the people out of heaven; and the people cursed God because of the plague of hail. For severe is the blow of it, extremely.

The Mysterious Prostitute

\textsuperscript{1}Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and spoke with me, saying, "Come, I will show you the judgment of the great prostitute who sits on many waters, \textsuperscript{2}with whom the kings of the earth have fornicated. And those dwelling on the earth have become intoxicated from the wine of her fornication."

\textsuperscript{3}And he carried me away in the Spirit to a wilderness. And I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast that had seven heads and ten horns, which was full of blasphemous names. \textsuperscript{4}And the woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and covered with gold and precious stones and pearls, holding a golden cup in her hand, full of abominations and the uncleanness of her\textsuperscript{191} prostitution. \textsuperscript{5}And on her forehead a title was written:

\textsuperscript{197} 17:13c The Greek word is gnōmē, which means what you have in mind, what you intend, what your purpose is. But it is not necessarily talking here about what the kings have in mind, (or what a one-world government has in mind) but what Satan and the beast have in mind, which providentially is also what God has in mind. Ultimately, these kings serve the purpose of God, the king of the ages. For from Him, and through Him, and to Him are all things. To God be the glory, for ever. Amen. Others think this means "these have one mind," in other words, they are in agreement with each other.

\textsuperscript{198} 17:13d The Greek for "give" is in the present indicative. But this is sort of an "inverse infinitive of result." A kind of Semitism. In other words, there is a formula in Hebraistic Greek called an "infinitive of result," where kai followed by an infinitive in the Greek means in English a result, ie, "and then he will do such and such." Here the formula is solved in reverse: The Greek "and then they will do such and such" means in English an exegeetical "and that is to do such and such." What they do, is what their one purpose was. And they do it.

lac 2050. The TR and NA27 editions support some form of the word "drink," and the RP text supports "fallen." The UBS commentary says the other forms of the word "drunk" are grammatical improvements made to an original πέπωκαν, which fits with the prophetic imagery of Jeremiah 25:15 (LXX 32:15) f.; 51:7, 39 (LXX 28:7, 39) and Rev. 14:8, and that "fallen" is not suitable to the context and might be a conformation to "fallen" in v. 2.

213 18:12b The Greek says "thuonic wood." There was a "thuon tree" that grew in north Africa. The most important property of this tree is that its wood was burnt in offerings in ceremonies. Furniture made out of its wood was in popular demand. Its resin was valued not only for ceremonial incense, but may have been medicinally used, as an anti-biotic, anti-fungal and anti-wart. Some say this was the citron tree, also grown in north Africa, and valued for its resin and durable wood. They claim that for the Jewish feast of Booths, there developed a custom, based on the command in Leviticus 23:40 to "take the fruit of the goodliest tree" the custom to use the cedar cone in the ceremonies. But then that the custom changed to using citron fruit, with the Greek name for cedar, κέδρον, was latinized into citron. I don't know how valid that is, since there was a specific Greek word for citron, κίτρον.

To me, the Maj. readings make no sense: Since Babylon is destroyed forever, she won't find anything of any sort again, so it need not be said that she will not find her luxuries and splendor again. It is humankind who will not find them, at least where she was. Humankind and the planet are much better off without her luxuries. It is luxurious living that destroys the planet. The original reading, the third person plural, seemed to many copyists to need a subject, so many supplied various subjects (where I added "men"), such as "the merchants," or, "the souls of those who are left," or, "the free" et al.

218 18:17a In Hebraistic Greek this word "hoti" like here can mean "how." There is a similar exclamation in 2 Samuel 1:19, 25, 27 about Saul and Jonathan, "How have the mighty fallen."
And every pilot and everyone sailing toward the place, and mariners and such as work the sea, stood afar off, and cried out, watching the smoke of her fire, saying, "What city is like the great city?" And they threw dust above their heads and cried out weeping and mourning, saying, "Alas, Alas, great city, through whom all those owning ships on the sea became rich from her Priceyness. How has she been laid waste in one hour?"

Rejoice over her, O heaven, and you saints and apostles and prophets! For God has adjudicated your redress from her. And a powerful angel lifted up a stone, like a giant millstone, and threw it into the sea, saying, "With such violence will that great city Babylon be thrown down, and never more be found."

And the sound of guitarists and musicians and flutists and trumpeters will never more be heard in you, nor will any craftsman of any skill be found in you anymore, nor the sound of a factory be heard in you anymore, and the light of a lamp will not shine in you anymore, and the sound of bridegroom and bride will not be heard in you anymore. For your traders were the lords of the earth, in that by your sorceries all nations were deceived.

And in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints, indeed of all the slain upon the earth.

the LXX that passage is II Kings 1:19, where those translators used the Greek word πός. David was not really asking how it happened, but was expressing consternation, as here in Revelation. There are three instances of this expression with ὅτι, in 18:10, 17, 19, and I varied the English word for the sake both of poetic variety and of illustration of the Hebraistic Greek possibilities.

18:19 This Greek word τιμιοτῆτος actually was sometimes used as a title of respectful address to a rich person. "Your Priceyness," or, "Your Preciousness." In this passage, the logic is that the traders and merchants would miss her because of her high prices, or where would you rather take your wares, to where they are accustomed to high prices, or to where they have low prices? You could accurately render the word here as "high prices." But this brings up another illustration of how the rich oppress the poor. Many a poor person has had his home demolished because of how it would adversely affect the high prices of the homes of his rich neighbors. And thus, the rich get richer, and the poor get poorer. There is no greater freedom a country can have than that each citizen be allowed to build a house that each can afford, no matter what quality, and own that house debt-free from the start. But her Priceyness is building up wrath for that day.

Looking at this word φαρμακείᾳ with current events in view, I must conclude that it refers both to narcotics and to pharmaceutical drugs. The dynastical families that constitute the invisible One World Government made their wealth from trading both in narcotics and in pharmaceutical drugs, on both of which they earn a huge retail mark-up. They also control most of the world's insurance companies and currencies. They are all mostly Satanists as well. Note how many of the mainstream pharmaceutical drugs are now the target of tort lawyers for all the damage that they do to us. They also work "sorcery" so to speak with mass mind control with their control of most of the world's news media and entertainment.
Chapter 19

Hallelujah!

1 After these things I heard something like the sound of a very large multitude in heaven, saying, "Hallelujah! The salvation and glory and power of our God!

2 How true and right are his judgments! For he has judged the great prostitute who was destroying the earth with her prostitution, and has avenged the blood of his servants spilled by her hand."

3 And a second time they said, "Hallelujah! And the smoke from her ascends for ever and ever."

4 And the twenty-four elders and the four living beings fell down and worshiped God, the one sitting on the throne, saying, "Amen. Hallelujah!"

5 And there came a voice from the throne, saying, "Praise our God, all you his servants, and you who fear him, both small and great."

6 And I heard like the sound of a great multitude, and like the sound of many waters and like the sound of powerful thunderclaps, saying, "Hallelujah! For the Lord our God the Almighty has begun to reign. Let us rejoice and exult, and give glory to him, for the wedding of the Lamb has come, and his wife has made herself ready; and it was given to her that she be dressed in fine linen bright and clean, for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints."

9 And he says to me, "Write: 'Blessed are those who are invited to the wedding banquet of the Lamb.' " And he says to me, "These are true words from God."

10 And I fell down before his feet to worship him. And he says to me, "Watch out! I am your fellow servant, and one of your brothers in having the testimony of Jesus. Worship God. For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy."

Behold a White Horse

11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse, and the one sitting on it called faithful and true, and in righteousness he judges and makes war. And his eyes are like flames of fire, and on his head many diadems, having a name written on them which no one knows but himself, and he is clothed in a robe dipped in blood, and called by the name "the Word of God."

14 And the armies that are in heaven are following him on white horses, dressed in bright, clean linen. And from his mouth goes out a sharp sword, so that with it he might strike the nations, and then he himself will shepherd them with a rod of iron; and he himself will tread the press of the wine of the passion of God the Almighty. 15 And he has a name written on his robe and on his thigh: King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

17 And I saw an angel standing on the sun, and he cried out in a very great voice, saying, "To all the birds flying in mid-air, Come, gather toward the great feast of God, that you may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of generals, and the flesh of the mighty, and the flesh of horses and of those riding on them; even the flesh of every sort, both free and slave, both the small and the great."

19 And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies, gathered together to make war with the one sitting on the horse and with his army. 20 And the beast was arrested, and with him the false prophet who did the wonders before him by which he deceived those receiving the mark of the beast and worshiping his image. The two were thrown while living into the lake of fire burning with sulfur. 21 And the rest were killed by the sword which goes out from the mouth of the one sitting on the horse. And all the birds got fat off their flesh.
Chapter 20

The One Thousand Years

1 And I saw an angel coming down from heaven, holding the key to the abyss and a giant chain in his hand. 2 And he captured the dragon, the ancient serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years, and cast him into the abyss, and closed and sealed it over him, so that he could no longer deceive the nations, until the end of the thousand years; after them he must be released for a short time.

4 And I saw thrones, and they took their seat on them, and judgeship was given to them, that is, the souls of those beheaded because of the testimony of Jesus, and because of the word of God, who did not worship the beast, neither the image of him, and did not take the mark on their forehead or on their hand. And they came to life, and reigned with Christ a thousand years. 5 (The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were finished.) 6 This is the first resurrection. 7 Blessed and holy is he who takes part in the first resurrection; over such, the second death has no power, but instead they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

The Last War

7 And when the thousand years are finished, Satan shall be released from his prison, and he shall go forth to deceive the nations which are in the four points of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together for war, the number of them being as the sand of the seashore. And they rose up over the breadth of the earth, and surrounded the company of the saints and the beloved city. And fire came down from heaven and consumed them. And the Devil, the deceiver of them, was cast into the lake of fire and sulfur, where also the beast and false prophet were, and they shall be tormented day and night, for ever and ever.
The Great White Throne of Judgement

11 And I saw a great white throne, and the one sitting on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away, and their place was found no more. 12 And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne, and books were opened. Another book was also opened, which is the book of life. And the dead were judged from what was written in the books, according to their works. 13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it, and Death and Hades gave up the dead which were in them, and each person was judged according to their works. 14 And Death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire. 15 And if anyone was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

The New Jerusalem

1 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and first earth had vanished away, and the sea does not exist anymore. 2 And I saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride made beautiful for her husband. 3 And I heard a great voice from the throne saying, "Behold, God's tent is with humanity. And he shall dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and he shall be their God; 4 and he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes. And death shall no longer exist, neither sadness, nor crying, nor pain, shall exist anymore. The former things have passed away." 5 And the One sitting on the throne said, "Behold, I am making all things anew."

Her radiance was similar to a precious gemstone, like a jasper stone shimmering as crystal; having a wall, great and high, with twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written on them, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel; from the east three gates, and from the north three gates, and from the south three gates, and from the west three gates; with the wall of the city having twelve foundations, and on them twelve names, of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

And the one speaking with me had a measuring rod of gold, to measure the city, and its gates and its wall. And with the rod, he measured the city at 12,000 stadia. The length and width and height of it are the same. And he measured the wall of it, 144 forearms, the dimension of a man, which is the angel's.

And the material of its wall is jasper, and the city is pure gold, clear like crystal. The foundations of the walls of the city are adorned with every precious stone; the first foundation with jasper, the second sapphire, the third chalcedony, the fourth emerald, the fifth sardonyx, the sixth sardius, the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth topaz, the tenth chrysoprase, the eleventh hyacinth, the twelfth amethyst. And the twelve gates are twelve pearls; each one of the gates was made out of one pearl. And the streets of the city are pure gold, transparent as glass. And I did not see a temple in it, for the Lord God Almighty is its temple, and his Father and his Christ.

The gates are named after the direction you are coming from when entering them. The way winds are named. The gates are named the way direction you are coming from is named when entering them. And the angel said with me, ‘measure the city, its gates and its wall.’ And he measured 12,000 stadia. This phrase is ambiguous; it could either be saying that the angel in the context here measuring, has the same dimensions of his fore-arm as a man has, or it could be saying that angels in general use the same measurements as human beings, which was cubits. The former seems more likely, than that angels will always use cubits.

284 22:2d Compare Ezekiel 47:12, where it says “all kinds of fruit.” Some interpreters see the δώδεκα “twelve” with a δωδεκάκις meaning, that is, “twelve times,” see BDF § 248(3). If δώδεκα here means “monthly,” then κατά μήνα “according to the month” would seem redundant. “Monthly” is what is said in Ezekiel and also in Shemot r. 15, acc. to Lohmeyer, Hdb. ad loc. But καρποὺς “fruits” here is plural, and it seems to be saying that there are 12 different kinds of fruit (but all are “the tree of life”), and each different kind of fruit is borne in a different month. You could still have “12 kinds of fruits, every month each one yielding its fruit.” But I don’t know how “month” or “monthly” either one, could be literal, since there will be no more night or day. How then would still be “months” if there is no more night or day, and there is no need for a sun anymore?

Affecting this and other variants in Revelation is the scribes’ and the interpreters’ understanding of passages such as 22:15, "Outside are the dogs, etc." If one understands that passage to mean that there will still be wicked and accursed people on the earth at that time, only not allowed into the city, then you might want to specify here that no accursed thing will be "there" in the city itself. But if you understand that "outside" to not be spatially literal, but rather global, that they will not even be in the kingdom even outside the city, then the "no longer" variant is more acceptable. One wonders too, concerning the similar phrase in 22:5 a couple verses later, how or whether these two pulled on each other. English translations vary greatly as to which variant, "no longer" versus "there," that they follow (several even conflate the two). They also vary greatly as to whether the phrase pân katáthema means "any curse" or "any accursed thing." I went with the latter because Revelation shows a distinct concern with Jewish cleanness.

12 Behold,²⁹⁶ I am coming soon, and the repayment from me along with me, to pay back to each one such as his work²⁹⁷ truly is.²⁹⁸ 13 I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end.²⁹⁹

14 "Blessed are those who wash their robes,³⁰⁰ so that access to the tree of life will be theirs, and to the gates, so they may go into the city. 15 Outside³⁰¹ are dogs,³⁰² and sorcerers, and fornicators and murderers and idolaters and anyone who loves or does falsehood.

16 I Jesus have sent my angel to testify these things to you regarding the churches. I am the root and line of David, the bright and morning star.³⁰³

17 And the Spirit and the bride say, "Come." And he who is hearing this should say "Come." And he who is thirsty, should come. Whoever wants to, get the water of life without cost.

18 I testify³⁰⁴ to everyone who is hearing these words of the prophecy of this book: if anyone adds to them, God will add³⁰⁵ to him the plagues that are written in this

There is simply no Greek manuscript support for the TR reading. The TR reading is found in only two Greek manuscripts, 296 and 2049, (plus margin of 2067 in a very late hand) but these two, 296 & 2049 do not count, since both are 16th century manuscripts (Hoskier's numbers, 57 & 141) that were handwritten copies made from the TR itself, according to Hoskier (see table at end of this document). One cannot use a copy of the TR to prove that a TR reading is found in Greek manuscripts. A plausible theory as to the origin of the reading is that it is probably from the Latin, and maybe confusion of libro and ligno. Proof that Erasmus got this "book" reading from the Latin is the fact that his one Greek Revelation manuscript, 2814, formerly known as No. 1, had an exact sister manuscript not known to him at the time, and this manuscript, 2186 (208), did not lack the end verses. And here in 22:19, that sister manuscript reads "tree" not "book." And at the bottom of page 1:615, Hoskier says, "This MS 187 with 57 and 141 must not be accorded any weight whatsoever. They are brought into the record because of their very connection with the printed text." Moreover, there should remain no doubt that Erasmus himself admitted that his TR Greek text of Revelation 22:16-21 was from Latin sources and not Greek. Erasmus wrote: "There was no doubt that some things were missing, and it was not much. Therefore we completed the Greek from our Latin texts, so that there might be no gap. We did not want to hide this from the reader, however, and acknowledge in the Annotationes what we had done, in order that, if our words differed in some respect from those that the author of this work had provided, the reader who obtained a manuscript could restore them." The Ν reading is bolstered by another uncial, 052, in the form of its minuscule descendants 1678 1778, plus with the very good minuscules 2053 2062 2186 2329 added to them. This consortium is at least as good as A 046, and certainly better than 051 supp as a lone uncial. The 922 reading is simply a mistaking of ΝΑΙ for ΚΑΙ. I think that the Ν reading is probably correct. At the same time, I am loathe to remove the word Amen, because it is so natural- my soul immediately exclaims it in response to the statement "Yes, I am coming soon." But that may be another explanation as to how and why it got added as text: perhaps an enthusiastic remark in the margin eventually made it into the text itself.

Revelation Endnote #1

"Angel" of each of the seven churches, or "messenger?"

The phrase "angel of" can mean the angel "in charge of" as in the following:
There was an "angel of the waters" in Rev. 16:5.
Angels of children in Matt. 18:10.
Angel of the fire, Rev. 14:18
Angel of the censer 8:3
Angel of the Abyss, 9:11

There is nothing unusual about God using an angel to deliver a message to humans. There are many, many such instances elsewhere in the Bible. Why not here? And according Hebrews 13:2, people have entertained angels without knowing it. Indeed, angels in the Old Testament often appeared as humans; see Gen. 16:7; 19:1; and many others.

The spies are called angels in James 2:25

The angel Gabriel, in Daniel 9:21, communicates between Daniel and God. In Daniel 10:12-14, Gabriel tells Daniel that in the process of delivering Daniel's prayers, an angel, or fallen angel to be exact, whom he called the "prince of the kingdom of Persia, hindered him in delivering those prayers, but Michael, whom he calls "one of the chief princes" and whom we know is an angel, helped Gabriel. The point I am making is that there was "an angel of Persia," that is, a fallen angel in charge of Persia. So also there was a "Prince of Greece," in Daniel 10:20. This is left over from when Satan used to be an archangel along with Michael and Gabriel. They set angels over certain territories in their military planning.

Angel acts as messenger in Rev. 1:1; 22:6, 16.

It does not make sense for the messengers of each church to be a man. Because the churches had more than one pastor in each church, they are always mentioned in the plural:

When they had ordained elders in every church, Acts 14:23.
Elders of the church in Ephesus, Acts 20:17
Ordain elders in every city, Titus 1:5
Let him call for the elders of the church, James 5:14.
I Peter 5:1,2, "The elders among you I exhort, overseers of the flock..." Here Peter equates elders, presbuteroi, with overseers, episkopoi "bishops."
Acts 20:28, (see 20:17, elders of the church of Ephesus, 20:28, Paul now calls them overseers, episkopoi, so Paul also equates presbuteroi with episkopoi.
Philippians 1:1, the church there has plural overseers.
Titus 1:5, 7 Paul says appoint elders...for an overseer is... Paul again equates an elder with an overseer.

We can say that the office of elder and the office of overseer are the same office. The overseers should naturally be somewhat elder, especially elder in the faith (I Timothy 3:6, he must not be a recent convert) and one of their main functions is to both oversee and to visit; both meanings of episkopew.

Why not an angel in charge of each church in Asia. It would not be unreasonable to assume that there is a fallen angel in charge of each church as well, representing Satan's interests.
Revelation Endnote #2

Revelation 7:6, 8

In this list of the sons of Israel, as pertaining to the 144,000, 12,000 called from each tribe of Israel, Joseph is represented twice, as his own name in verse 8, and also by way of his son Manasseh in verse 6. Israel had only 12 sons, so if Joseph is represented twice, that means that one of the other sons of Israel is missing here. Dan is missing.

Jacob's blessing of Dan:

Genesis:
49:16 Dan shall judge his people, as one of the tribes of Israel.
49:17 Dan shall be a serpent in the way, an adder in the path, that bites the horse's heels, so that his rider falls backward.
49:18 I have waited for your salvation, O Yahweh.

Recall similar language about the Serpent- Biting heels Attacking the rider on the horse Does Jacob seem to be wanting Deliverance from Dan? Jacob waits for Salvation from Dan is what I think it means. Recall also that Satan is called the Accuser of the Brethren. Dan could be a judge in this sense.

Jacob's blessing of Joseph:

Genesis:
49:22 Joseph is a fruitful bough, a fruitful bough by a fountain; his branches run over the wall.
49:23 The archers have sorely grieved him, and shot at him, and persecute him:
49:24 But his bow abode in strength, and the arms of his hands were made strong, by the hands of the Mighty One of Jacob, (From there is the shepherd, the stone of Israel),
49:25 Even by the God of your father, who shall help you, and by the Almighty, who shall bless you, with blessings of heaven above, blessings of the deep that crouches beneath, blessings of the breasts, and of the womb.
49:26 The blessings of your father have prevailed above the blessings of my progenitors to the utmost bound of the everlasting hills: They shall be on the head of Joseph, and on the crown of the head of him that was separate from his brothers.

Moses' blessing of Dan:

Deuteronomy 33:22 "And of Dan he said, Dan is a lion's whelp, That leaps forth from Bashan."

Recall Psalm 22 "bulls of Bashan surround me..."? The Bull is sometimes a symbol of Satan. Baal-zibbul. Jesus was mocked by bulls of Bashan as he suffered on the cross. Bashan was the territory of Dan.

Moses' blessing of Joseph:

33:13 And of Joseph he said, Blessed of Yahweh be his land, for the precious things of heaven, for the dew, and for the deep that crouches beneath,
33:14 And for the precious things of the fruits of the sun, and for the precious things of the growth of the moons,
33:15 And for the chief things of the ancient mountains, and for the precious things of the everlasting hills,
33:16 And for the precious things of the earth and the fulness thereof, and the good will of him that dwell in the bush. Let the blessing come upon the head of Joseph, and upon the crown of the head of him that was separate from his brothers.

33:17 The firstling of his herd, majesty is his; and his horns are the horns of the wild-ox: with them he shall push the peoples all of them, even the ends of the earth: and they are the ten thousands of Ephraim, And they are the thousands of Manasseh.

God's curse on the serpent:

Genesis 3:14 And Yahweh God said to the serpent, because you have done this, cursed are you above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon your belly shall you go, and dust shall you eat all the days of your life:
3:15 and I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed: he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel.

David:

109:8 Let his days be few; and let another take his office.
109:9 Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.
109:10 Let his children be vagabonds, and beg; and let them seek their bread out of their desolate places.
109:11 Let the extortioner catch all that he has; and let strangers make spoil of his labor.
109:12 Let there be none to extend kindness unto him; neither let there be any to have pity on his fatherless children.
109:13 Let his posterity be cut off; in the generation following let their name be blotted out.

Ezekiel 47:13 "Thus saith the Lord Yahweh: This shall be the border, whereby ye shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions."

Genesis 49:22, of Joseph: "His branches run over the wall."
This means Joseph went over the wall and took Dan's inheritance. That is what the wall signifies; the stone boundary between lots.
